(U) San Francisco – Twitter Hacker Touting the Data of More Than 5.4 Million Users

(U) More than 5.4 million Twitter users have reportedly been targeted in a major breach of personal data following revelations earlier this year that the site had a serious security flaw. Despite a fix, the phone numbers and email addresses of millions of users, including celebrities, companies, and day-to-day account holders or those with desirable handles, were apparently accessed, and now are being sold via a post on a dark web site called Breached Forums.

(U) New York – Man Charged with Terroristic Threat at Latham ANG Base

(U) Colonie – On 23 July, state police were contacted by a concerned soldier from the Army National Guard Base in Latham. The investigation determined Thomas Greene, 20, made a terroristic threat while on the base. A search of Greene's home resulted in the State Police seizing an illegally possessed assault rifle, a shotgun, and five large-capacity ammunition feeding devices. Greene was also found to be in violation of an active order of protection preventing him from legally possessing a firearm.

(U) Mexico – Police Find 1.6 Tons of Cocaine in Two Trucks in "Historic" Seizure

(U) Mexico City – Mexico City police made one of the biggest drug busts in recent memory in Mexico City, stopping two freight trucks carrying about 1.6 tons of cocaine, officials said yesterday. The head of the city government hailed the seizure as a "historic confiscation." City police chief Omar Garcia Harfuch said the cocaine was worth about $20 million on the street in Mexico, but he said only part of the shipment had been destined for the capital, with the rest heading north to Los Angeles. Earlier this month, Mexico City police engaged in a shootout with more than a dozen gunmen armed with a .50 caliber sniper rifle, grenades, and a machine gun. Garcia Harfuch said that 14 suspects had been detained and that officers freed two kidnap victims who were apparently being held against their will.

(U) Nigeria – Terrorists Attack Presidential Guards, Kill Eight Soldiers

(U) Abuja – Gunmen last week attacked some officials of the 7 Guards Battalion of the Nigerian Army Presidential Guards Brigade. The incident, which took place late Friday night around the Bwari Area Council of Abuja, left three soldiers wounded and eight personnel killed. Two of the slain personnel were officers, including a captain and lieutenant, while the remaining were soldiers. According to a source within the army, the main aim of the terrorists is to attack the Nigerian Law School in Bwari and they may have already camped in the area.
